GOLF TIP

Putting

The most important characteristic of a putter beyond its swinging balance is its lie angle. If you putt best standing a good distance from the ball, you will need a flat lying putter to be able to sole the blade without sticking up. Conversely, if you stand close to the ball as Jack Nicklaus does, then you need a club with an upright lie.

THE PRO'S VIEW:

We continue to advise you on how to best manage your play at Monterey Pines Golf Course. You will only see the tougher Par 3 holes in this column as this month we work on:

HOLE #13: 192 YARDS, PAR 3
This hole is tough! It's long and features two huge Monterey cypress trees that guard the left side of the green. The right side is trapped, leaving the golfer with only a small opening to hit to the green. Another problem can also occur. Most golfers either slice or face a golf ball, which is affected then by the prevailing afternoon breeze off the ocean.

There are two shots to play:

“The first shot option (geared to the more accomplished golfer) is to hit a high hard drive at the right side of the bunker (sand trap) bringing it right-to-left to the green”.

“With the second shot option, the average golfer, using a club that will keep the ball low, can hit the ball and let it roll to the green. If it does not hit the green, at least there is the opportunity to chip it close and save par.”

Don't forget to sign-up your kids for the Junior Golf Camps and Clinics lessons with Nick Nelson or Dave Arancio this summer at Monterey Pines.

For more information about the Monterey Pines Golf Course and RV Campgrounds, please call 656-4029.
